

Quadrant 4 System Corporation Launches New Website for Health Division

Schaumburg, IL., April 5, 2017 (Globe Newswire) -- Quadrant 4 System Corporation (OTC: QFOR) announced today the launch of a newly revamped website for Quadrant 4 Health at www.quadrant4health.com. The redesigned website offers intuitive access for visitors to view essential information and is structured around the communities Quadrant 4 Health serves: Health Plans, Third Party Administrators and Brokers / Enrollment Firms.

The website functionality has been optimized to ensure visitors are provided a "user-friendly" experience across all digital devices, including desktop and mobile. New content is featured throughout including a more comprehensive understanding of the platform, its various features and key benefits.

"We are excited about our new website launch and the information it provides for clients, investors, partners and the community to better understand Quadrant 4 Health's robust solutions," said Robert Steele, CEO of Quadrant 4. "We believe this new site will showcase our best-in-class capabilities and provide our visitors an informative experience as we continue to grow and increase our market presence."

"In the past year, our Health team has placed an emphasis on designing, developing and deploying industrial-strength solutions for our clients. Going forward, we are working to increase transparency with the community on all the great projects we have going on," added Steele.

The Quadrant 4 Health website will be updated on a frequent basis going forward with new information including new platform features, client success stories, industry event presence and press releases.
